

Two Killed When Train Crashes Car At Newark

NILES GIRL TELLS OF VACATION AT MEXICO CITY

Back from a trip to Mexico City, Miss Gladys Rose, Niles girl, has interesting tales to tell of the great Mexican metropolis. Miss Rose made the trip with four girl companions by automobile as far as Monterey, old Mexico, and went from there to the capital city by train. She stated that the roads were impossible.

Among interesting things seen in Mexico, Miss Rose tells, was a bull fight, of the real variety. She and her friends visited the famous floating gardens, and spent some time exploring old Mayan temple and pyramid ruins.

Miss Rose was accompanied by the Misses Lilian McHoul, Olive De Souza, Rose Vaisol and Doris Morgan. They were gone two weeks.

AUXILIARY PLANS CARD PARTY FOR DECEMBER 4

The first meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary unit with the new officers presiding was held at the Veterans' Memorial building, at Niles Tuesday evening of last week.

Foremost in the business session was a discussion of plans for the annual card party, to be held in the Memorial building on December 4. Chairmen of the various organization committees, to function throughout the year, were appointed by the new president, Mrs. Theresa Swartz.

The next meeting, which will be held jointly with the members of the Legion Post, will be for the purpose of laying plans for the annual Christmas party, an affair given for the children of veterans of Washington township. Mrs. Pearl Wiseman will have charge of refreshments at the coming meet.

Betsy Ross Parlor Plans Whist Party

Members of the Betsy Ross Parlor Native Daughters of the Golden West held their second meeting Friday night in the Country Club house, their new meeting place, and laid plans for a whist party to be held in the fall.

At the next meeting, slated for November 2, the group will probably discuss plans for a party, to be given for the benefit of homeless children.

Refreshments were served at the meeting.

PETER MOSEGAARD, PARK FOUNDER, IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Spread Fame Of Niles
Canyon As Leading Play Spot

Peter Mosegaard, 74, the founder of Stonybrook, Niles Canyon's original and most famous recreation ground, passed away at a San Jose hospital early last Thursday morning after a brief illness. He had failed to rally from an operation.

Mosegaard came to California from Denmark, his birthplace, when a boy, and settled in the Hayward region, where he lived for a number of years. Attracted by the scenic beauty of Niles canyon, he leased the part of the canyon including the major tributary, Stonybrook, in about 1908 and opened a recreation and picnic park. He built an out door pavilion for dancing, and for many years, this, coupled with the natural surroundings made the park famous throughout the east bay. Lodges, clubs and other organizations made constant use of the grounds.

Following the death of his wife last February, Mosegaard lost interest in his work, and according to his friends, often expressed a desire to join her. His physicians stated that he made no resistance to the malady which claimed him.

He is survived by two brothers; Martin and Andrew, of Hayward; three daughters, Mrs. J. C. White, of San Jose; Mrs. C. E. Emory, of Coronado; Miss Anna Mosegaard, of Oakland, and two sons, Alfred, of Oakland and Ferdinand, of Niles.

LOCAL COURT HAS BUSY SESSION FRIDAY

Judge J. A. Silva, Niles justice, spent a relatively busy Friday afternoon at the Niles court house, with three cases.

Accused of reckless driving, James Leon Janson, of 1615 Herzog street, Oakland, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail. Janson had the alternative of paying a $30 fine. The miscreant's bad reputation as a driver, it seems, is confirmed by the fact that a similar charge is pending both in Santa Cruz and in San Leandro. He was arrested in the latter city on his way to trial here Friday.

Arrested by Deputy Sheriff James Ritchie for arousing a disturbance while in an intoxicated condition recently, Henry Wegman, of Oakland, was charged with a misdemeanor and fined $50.

Seized on a complaint filed by his wife, May, Chester Buck, of Newark will answer to the local court for failure to provide for minor children on November 2. The case was continued until that day last Friday.

Frank Crane, switch towerman, will return soon from a ten day vacation. He is employed by the Western Pacific company at Elmhurst.

SCOUT FUND MEET MONDAY NIGHT AT NILES

Having been delayed until the new Niles Boy Scout troop was under way, the Niles Scout Fund drive began in earnest Wednesday, according to E. E. Glassbrook and Harvey Braun, fund committee men.

The drive will continue for some time, Glassbrook stated. On Monday night, E. Dixon Bristow, community drive chairman, will call committeemen together at the Memorial building, when funds collected to date will be turned over to I. P. Beasley, scout executive.

The Boy Scout committee, which held its first meet last Friday, will meet again tonight to finish organization and confer with Scoutmaster Clarence Crane. Harvey Braun is new chairman.

CLASS IN PORTUGUESE INAUGURATED AT HIGH SCHOOL

Classes in Portuguese were inaugurated at the Washington high night school Tuesday night, to meet a demand in the district that instruction in the language be offered.

The instructor is Miss Aurea Curry, of Hayward, who holds a special credential in Portuguese from the State Department of Education. She instructs classes at the Hayward night school in the tongue.

According to W. Olson, night school principal, the purpose of the class is twofold: the conversational training will be supplemented by a study of the literary background and culture of the Portuguese people.

COUPLE INJURED IN $1,000 LOSS WHEN ACCIDENT NEAR NILES

Apparently failing to see ahead, George B. Davis, 4701 Walnut street, Oakland, was gashed about the head, and a woman companion hurt, when he drove his car into the rear of a steel laden truck south of the Niles bridge Thursday night.

The truck was stopped at a railroad crossing, it is said, and Davis, evidently confused, failed to stop in time. The injured couple were brought to the office of Dr. E. C. Grau, Niles physician, by Joe Soares, local man, who stopped at the scene of the crash.

Davis' companion, Marion Kelly, 32, of 955 Golden Gate avenue, suffered scalp wounds, and gashes about the face and neck. Both she and Davis were later taken to the Fairmont hospital, in Oakland.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE BRINGS IN 62 NEW NAMES FOR P.-T. A.

Children Treated After
Ceremony At School
Tuesday Afternoon

Sixty-two "membership" leaves were pasted on the Parent-Teachers' Association tree by as many children Tuesday afternoon, at the conclusion of the concerted membership drive by the local chapter.

The children, made representatives of the association, secured the new members, for each one acquiring the right to paste a leaf on the tree. Following the ceremony the diminutive salesmen were treated to ice cream and cake in the school cafeteria.

A short business session was held after the leaf-pasting, with Mrs. George Brown presiding in the absence of Mrs. C. M. Myrick. The group heard three short talks.

Mrs. Frank Clark, P.-T. A. district president, of Alameda, made a few remarks on membership and the meaning of the organization.

Mrs. L. K. Beever, district program chairman stressed co-operation with teachers and pointed out the need for programs to create interest in the meets. She urged parents to ask the teachers for suggestions on their children, and to take advantage of the teachers' knowledge of the child's mental ability.

Mrs. R. Hampton, district magazine chairman told of the P.-T. A. magazine, and suggested that it be used as a text for all association projects.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria after the meet.

THOR NORDVIK IS POSTMASTER AT ALVARADO

Thor J. Nordvik, of Alvarado, received word of his appointment as acting postmaster at Alvarado last Thursday, according to word received here this week.

Nordvik succeeds the late postmaster Albert Norris, 83, who had been mail official for the town for a period of 19 years. Norris succumbed recently after a long period of ill health. He resigned from his position shortly before his death.

Nordvik, well known and popular in Washington township, is being congratulated by his numerous friends.

Township Firemen Save
Newark Dairy Plant
In Costly Fire

Newark, Decoto and Centerville firemen were called to fight one of the most destructive blazes of the year last Wednesday afternoon, when flames consumed a hay barn on the Jack Stadler ranch near Newark.

The fire, discovered by little Rose Stadler, Newark school pupil, had a head start on the firemen, and in spite of the smoke-eaters' terrific effort to prevent it, destroyed the barn. Surrounding dairy buildings and out-houses, threatened by the conflagration, were saved.

Losses included $1000 worth of hay, cut this season.

MEMBERS ACCLAIM MEN'S CLUB FALL BANQUET YESTERDAY

Judge Norris Honored By Jinks; Assemblage
Lauds Program

More than two score members of the Men's Club of Washington township gathered at the Congregational church in Niles last night for the regular fall banquet of the organization. Speaker for the evening was E. W. Jacobson, world traveler and educator.

Jacobson, who has recently returned to the United States from an extensive trip abroad, told the assemblage of his impressions of Europe. He stressed the governmental trends, particularly that of Germany, where he spent several weeks. He explained the methods and purpose of a Fascist state, and pointed out the desirability of Democracy. Jacobson, famed in education circles, is an assistant superintendent of the Oakland city schools.

The musical program, up to the usual standard under the direction of Frang Bristol as master of ceremonies, was thunderously approved. Payne Thebaud and his "Singing Strings" brought something new in musical entertainment. Barbara Pomeroy, mezzo contralto, sang several numbers. The latest hits were given an individual touch by Ruth Royale, "The Little Lady of the Blues."

Business at the meet consisted of the nomination and election of officers. The names will be released next week.

A feature of the evening was a jinks put on by club members in honor of Allen G. Norris, whose engagement to Miss Clara-belle Logan was announced recently. Norris is retiring president of the club.

The dinner was prepared and served by the ladies of the Congregational guild, under the supervision of Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, president.

Church Ladies Will Meet At Irvington

The regular monthly meeting of the ladies of the Irvington community church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church. With important plans to be discussed, all members are urged to be on hand. All interested ladies of the community may attend the meeting.

The missionary speaker who was to have spoken at the meet will be unable to attend, due to injuries suffered in an automobile crash. If a substitute speaker is not found, the pastor will show missionary slides and give a brief talk.

STREET CLEANING FUNDS MAY BE OBTAINED BY SUBSCRIPTION IN TOWN

Two Road Projects Take
Interest of Chamber
At Meet Monday

Thrown upon their own by the withdrawal of county assistance in cleaning Niles' First street, the Niles Chamber of Commerce began an intensive study of the problem Monday to work out a plan whereby the task may be accomplished by the town.

It is apparent to all merchants and businessmen here that the problem is one of vital interest. Co-operation will be needed to arrange for this necessary work. Foremost among the chamber's proposals is one to defray expenses incurred by the collection of a public subscription each four months. The sum would be nominal. A municipal plan, such as the one proposed, will be a last resort, however.

Two nearby road projects loom for proposal, it appears from developments at the meeting Monday. The Chamber voted unanimously to adopt a resolution sent out by the San Leandro Junior Chamber of Commerce to the effect that the Altamont pass road should be widened and improved. The value of the project is apparent to all in southern Alameda county.

With the hope that something may be done in the near future to improve the Niles canyon road, Chamber president Jones appointed a committee of three to start an investigation of possibilities and to be ready in case of sudden developments. The committee chosen is Lester Duffy, Ralph V. Richmond and R. B. Blacow.

Interest in scouting, boosted by the present fund drive, mounted at the meet when Harvey Braun, scout committee chairman, told of progress made to date in the reorganization of the new Niles scout troop. Braun urged the appointment of substitute scout committeemen to attend meetings in the absence of the regulars.

E. Dixon Bristow, community scout fund chairman, addressed the group, telling of the funds collected to date in Niles. Bristow explained that the drive had been slowed up by the disorganized troop during the first few days. He was optimistic of the outcome. A meeting of all fund drive committeemen will be held at the Veterans' Memorial building Monday evening, at which time all funds collected to date will be turned over to I. P. Beasley, scout executive. Bristow stated that two organizations, the Laura Loma Parlor of the Native Daughters and the Niles Firemen had made 100 per cent contributions.

A. J. Rathbone and E. E. Dias spoke briefly to the assemblage on the Men's Club meet and the Annual Firemen's ball respectively.

H. L. Scott was acting secretary at the meet in the absence of A. J. Petsche, secretary.

Ernie Smith Addresses Student Assembly Friday

Ernie Smith, widely-known sports announcer, was guest speaker at the Washington high student assembly Friday. He related his early experiences as a newspaper reporter, and told of his first trials in the broadcasting game.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Wright, formerly of Niles, write that they are enjoying their work at St. John's, Island of Antigua, West Indies.

PUBLIC INVITED TO COUNTRY CLUB AFFAIR SATURDAY

Garden Party At Shinn
Estate Will Attract
Colorful Throng

The first of a series of fetes to be held by the Country Club of Washington Township this fall will be a garden party in the garden of the J. C. Shinn home, at Niles. Time for the affair is from 2 to 5 p. m. Saturday afternoon, October 13.

Headed by Mrs. J. R. Whipple, chairman of the garden group, the following ladies have been making preparation for the event: Mrs. F. Robie, Mrs. August May, Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald, Mrs. Josephine Brown, Mrs. Paul Daugherty and Mrs. William H. Ford.

Everyone is invited to attend, members stated, featuring old fashioned dress. The public is cordially asked and urged to make the afternoon fete their point of interest for the day. All are urged to bring articles dating from past periods for display.

In addition to a program in keeping with the setting and motif of the day, there will be a booth for reading of horoscopes and hand-writing, presided over by Mrs. Garret Norris.

The fete is for the purpose of raising funds to be used in laying out a garden at the Club House in Centerville.

Tea will be served.

ARTS, CRAFTS GUILD HAS MEETING AT CENTERVILLE

More than thirty members and guests of the Arts and Crafts Guild of Washington township gathered for a most instructive and enjoyable meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Ormsby, in Centerville.

Mrs. E. C. Grau, head of the painting group talked on the technique of art creation, illustrating her remarks with several pieces of her work. Miss June Brown spoke on the use of colors, and explained color tone charts. Miss Phoebe Ormsby discussed the composition of trees in painting. Her talk was supplemented by a poetry reading "Song Without Music," by Mrs. Gladys Williamson. Miss Dorothea Ormsby carried the theme further with a vocal rendition of "Trees." She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Arwina Ormsby.

In the literary session, Wesley Dexter Gordon read a number of manuscripts, among them two short stories by A. A. Hatch, dealing with New England life. Poems by Misses Anna Millicent Shinn and Irma Hodges, were read. Mrs. Gladys Williamson gave a short talk on the technique of poetry writing. Her words were supplemented by Nell Farrington Myers, who read several articles on poetic inspiration.

One of the highlights of the evening was the playing of Henri Salz, concert pianist. He favored the assemblage with three excellent pieces.

Mrs. Nella Molino was a week-end visitor at the Fournier home in Niles.

Strange As It May Seem

Lost—One Collar Button

By BOYCE COLLINS

ROBERT WEBER was dressing to go out for the evening. Whether he would go to a first night at the theater or to one of the popular hotels where he could dine and dance the evening away, he hadn't decided.

"D—n!" he exclaimed suddenly when his collar button eluded him in the traditional manner just as he was carefully fastening on his collar. Robert spread the evening newspaper painstakingly on the floor and started his search for the missing button. Under the radiator he found dust, some burnt matches and nothing else. After further research he found a square opening around the base of the steam pipe where it entered the room. This half-inch space was exactly where a lost collar button might be hiding.

And there was something gleaming in the shallow hole. Robert fished around with a knife blade. He brought the gleaming object to the surface and carefully carried it to the bureau. "I'll be d—d!" Robert uttered out loud. But it wasn't his missing collar button that he had found.

Instead it was a diamond ring that Robert had unearthed from a dusty setting. It was a woman's ring.

"Now for the collar button and I'll be satisfied," murmured Robert as he went back to his excavating. But before he had stooped to a squatting position his foot hit something. He turned around and there was the collar button smashed flat. Robert didn't mind altering his plans. He put a business suit on instead of his tuxedo.

He knocked at the landlady's door before he left the house.

"I was just wondering, Mrs. Turnbull, who lived in my room before I moved in," said Robert. "I found a book there—'he had a book under his arm, a modern novel."

"Oh, that Miss Blossom must have left it—I don't believe she wanted it. She was always losing things—she lost her diamond ring right there in the room the very day she moved out."

"I suppose she left her new address," ventured Robert.

"Well, yes, she did. She couldn't afford to pay the rent here so she got a cheaper room with a Miss King on Amsterdam avenue."

With this information, Robert decided to dine by himself. After a sumptuous meal he proceeded to the new home of Miss Blossom.

"Miss Blossom, yes, sir. She lives here. Here's a gentleman to see you, Miss Blossom," the maid said and led him to a small living room where some one was playing the piano. The playing stopped. A woman arose and said to Robert, "I'm Miss Blossom."

"I came to inquire about a diamond ring that you had lost."

"I never talk to reporters," snapped Miss Blossom. "And besides I found my diamond ring in my trunk when I unpacked here."

"Well, do you happen to know who occupied the room before you took it? I found a diamond ring there last night and I'm anxious to return it to the owner."

"A Miss Towers had the room—Miss Elsie Towers—and she works in the Uptown Savings bank."

The Uptown Savings bank—his own place of employment! And Miss Towers was secretary to the president!

As he left Miss Blossom's home, Robert decided to forego pleasure and return to his room for a good night's sleep. The next morning the alarm clock awakened him an hour earlier than usual. Robert jumped out of bed and spent the extra time making sure that he would look his best at the bank that day. In hopes that Miss Elsie Towers breakfasted at Mrs. Turnbull's, he was in the dining room by seven-thirty. Half an hour later in came the one girl he was looking for, and she appeared more beautiful than ever.

As soon as he finished his breakfast he mustered up courage and joined Miss Towers at her table. He asked her tactfully if she had lost a ring. She was surprised and said that she had—a diamond ring that her father had sent her for Christmas last year. She didn't know what could have happened to it. It had vanished and she had been greatly upset about it.

That was Robert's chance and he took advantage of it.

Mrs. Turnbull from the cashier's desk noticed the pair intent in conversation. She didn't miss anything. "These young folks beat Old Harry," she told a friend later. "Strangers one day and engaged the next. He giving her a ring so soon!"

So the elderly matron wasn't surprised a few months later when Elsie displayed a large solitaire diamond set in platinum and she dined at the boarding house with Robert Weber. But she was curious about something that Robert took from his pocket and showed to Elsie. What was it that made them laugh and then suddenly appear so devoted to each other? If Mrs. Turnbull's eyesight had been a little better she would have noticed that the minute object which Robert took such good care of was a flattened collar button—the one thing that had been responsible for his romance with Elsie Towers.

Crabs Slow Travelers

Despite adverse currents that impede their progress certain species of crabs occasionally travel from the Mediterranean sea to the Red sea, scientists have found, although migration of these crustaceans in the other direction is much more common. When they do make the harder trip, however, their progress is not very rapid. A representative of the Paris museum, who has made a study of the fish of the Suez canal region, relates one instance in which a crab took 29 years to travel from Port Said through the Suez canal.

Two-Piece Frock Is Due for Popularity This Fall

Many of the daytime frocks beginning to appear just now contain more than a hint of the sartorial picture for the autumn.

Two-piece tunic frocks appear at the smartest places, many of them in silk, making it easy to visualize this fashion in woollens.

A typical advanced style frock is a two-piece tunic town model in beige silk.

The line is fairly severe but is softened by an enormous ruffled jabot cut from the dress fabric and pulled through a ring at the side of the neckline for fastening.

HAT TRENDS FOLLOW THREE DIRECTIONS

Three trends are the outstanding hat news. The first is the rule "over the face," for virtually every hat pitches forward over the right eyebrow and curls up in the back. The second is double brims with one piece of felt swooping down from the crown, turning under and looping back into the head band. The third is the use of such 1910 fabrics as panne velvet, beaver, soft drape felts and feathers.

Feathers are everywhere. Black birds of paradise swoop forward from under the wide curved-up brim of a black panne velvet. A white bird, wings outspread, hangs head down from the back of a black felt. Five little rose birds lie flattened on the crown of another black felt.

Attractive Beret to Be Made Welcome This Fall

After the large hats worn this summer, it will be nice to slip on an attractive little beret or a hat of the derby type with low round crown and narrow, curling brim.

Then, too, small hats of the tricorn type will no doubt be favored by the more mature woman. A nice little beret, on four-cornered lines, has a center of black satin and a deep border of tucked grosgrain ribbon.

A delightful tricorn is in black felt with the cleverly stitched crown following the line of the brim. Across the crown is a trimming of chartreuse and orange ribbon bands with pompons in these colors finished with black floss.

Satin Blouses

Satin in peculiarly becoming off-shades made with drapery necklines and full elbow sleeves is first choice in the thorough line-up of luxurious blouses which the shops are showing for fall.

Long Sashes, Wide Belts

Wide belts are used on the new fall sports clothes. And long, flowing sashes, tied in front, are shown on street and afternoon dresses.

SMARTLY SIMPLE By CHERIE NICHOLAS

This frock of navy and white coin-dot print in a chulla crepe weave is a good example of the new vogue which is being so enthusiastically acclaimed for simplicity in one's daytime apparel. It is just such a type as the well-dressed school girl will wear, as it will be equally at home in the classroom or at an informal dormitory tea, just as good form in the office, for that matter. Note that it is styled without pleated or ruffled elaboration, fancy lingerie touches or any other detail that would be difficult to handle in laundering, for, as most women have found out to their joy and satisfaction these all-rayon crepes wash perfectly.

VELVET FOR FALL By CHERIE NICHOLAS

All the early fall Paris collections stress the importance of velvet. Special emphasis is being placed on velvet worn in a practical way. Young girls will wear about town swagger coats of velvet with matching velvet berets. There will also be many neatly tailored jacket suits of velvet, a fashion which will be sure to appeal to the college girl. An outstanding theme on the fall program is the simple one-piece velvet dress of the type illustrated which will be found very useful the season through, since it can be worn quite informally during the day's activities. A rhinestone clip at the neckline with a wide matching bracelet provides the glittering note which characterizes most costumes in the new scheme of things.

Blouses of Wool Net Will Be Seen in Fall Styles

Blouses of wool net will be seen with some of our most aristocratic suits this fall, and the new satiny woolen dinner gowns will employ wool net for sleeves and bodices, in either matching or contrasting colors.

In a coarse mesh, the wool net will be used for sports blouses and such, and in a finer mesh, for formal clothes.

It brings with it added favor for wool lace, another innovation that will be seen around and about this coming season.

And for the height of elegance, you will see wool net evening gowns spangled with paillettes or glistening with highlights of metal threads.

Fooling Ducks an Indian Art That Was Successful

With a calabash over his head and no weapon other than his own two hands, an Indian of northern Mexico at the time of the Spanish conquest felt himself well equipped for a duck hunting expedition, according to an ethnologist of the University of California who found the method by which this equipment was used described in early Spanish chronicles.

Discovering a band of ducks feeding in fairly shallow water, the Indians would set a lot of big calabash gourds afloat in their midst. Not until several days later when the ducks appeared to have become so used to the calabashes as to pay little attention to them did the actual hunting start. Then an Indian would don a similar calabash, hollowed out to admit his head and perforated so he could see, and cautiously lower himself into the water until only the calabash showed above the surface. It was then a comparatively simple matter for him to move out among the ducks, seize them by the legs, draw them under water, wring their necks and fasten them to his belt.

Plague Was Genesis of Great Oberammergau Play

"Oberammergau lies in the Ammer valley between the slopes of the Bavarian Alps in the extreme southern portion of Germany not more than ten miles from the Austrian border," notes the National Geographic society.

"The play and, therefore, Oberammergau's fame is the outcome of a terrible plague which swept down on the village in 1332. It was brought by one Kasper Schisler, a native of the village, who was employed in the neighboring hamlet of Eschenlohe. Schisler, though dying with the plague, dragged himself over the mountain passes to see his wife and children.

"During the fall of that year and until the summer of the next the plague took a toll of forty-eight lives. The village elders, the 'Council of Six' and 'Council of Twelve,' met in the parish church to consider what could be done. They vowed 'to keep the Tragedy of the Passion' every ten years. It is reported that 'from that hour no one died of the plague in Oberammergau.'

"The houses of Oberammergau, many of which have their upper stories frescoed with religious and fairy-tale scenes, are not in systematic rows, but are set down in the village as if they were placed in a Christmas garden. Some are half hidden by vines and trees. The villagers still cling to their Bavarian costumes on Sundays and gala festive days."

Collie, a Good Hunter, Happiest, Best at Work

Once conscious of the responsibility reposed in him, one collie will perform work which would otherwise require the combined efforts of more than twenty men. Moreover, he not only excels in that performance but accomplishes what man is incapable of doing, says an authority in the Los Angeles Times.

Left to the labors of man alone, the task of marshaling a bleating flock of sheep would require more hands than the returns from the sale of stock would be capable of maintaining. Conclusive then is the fact that, without the collie, the world at large may never have known the enjoyment of the palatable lamb chop.

Few dogs possess the fertile resourcefulness of this all-round dog qualified to the demands of many breeds rolled into one. Endowed with an excellent nose, he is often employed in hunting small game. He is an excellent vermin killer. Gentle, slow to anger, shy of strangers, yet not ferocious, he makes an ideal watch guard or companion for man, woman or child. He is, nevertheless, happiest and at his best when working among sheep . . . doing the hardest day's work demanded of the canine race.

Cathedral of Notre Dame

The cathedral of Notre Dame at Rheims, begun in 1212 and completed in the fourteenth century, was one of the finest specimens of Gothic architecture in Europe. Hundreds of statues and statuettes adorned its western front, while over the center of the triple portal was a magnificent rose window of exquisite amber-colored Thirteenth century glass. The vast interior was in perfect symmetry and was adorned with a profusion of sculptured figures, magnificent tapestries, and rich old glass. It contained a fine organ, a clock with moving figures, one of the oldest in existence, and the flask of holy oil which tradition asserts was brought from heaven by a dove sent to St. Remy or Remigius when he baptized Clovis, king of the Franks, in 496. The cathedral was nearly destroyed in 1914 when the city of Rheims was shelled by the Germans. After four years of war all that remained of the edifice were the walls and the series of statues within the west wall. The rose window of Rheims has been restored.

Tortoise Shell Clips

Tortoise shell or crystal hemispheres rimmed and centered with gold make smart clips designed for winter frocks.

VOLUBLE DUTCHMAN DUPES U. S. BIGWIGS

Notables Give Him Autographs and Seals.

New York.—No doubt the youthful Dutchman indulges in a chuckle or two as he paces the confines of the Ellis island alien detention pen and awaits the word from Washington that will pack him off to his native Holland.

Hadn't he pulled the wool over the eyes of a select list of the nation's celebrities, including Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Governor Lehman of New York, Mayor La Guardia of New York city, and, apparently, President Roosevelt, too?

Pieter Jaarsma, late of Amsterdam, is the name of this super-duper who, as a sort of self-appointed good will envoy of her majesty, Queen Wilhelmina, made a specialty of gathering official seals and signatures.

A Technique All His Own.

Jaarsma, an autograph collector extraordinary, had a technique all his own, and he had lots of fun crashing the higher state circles until immigration officials caught up with him and called a halt to the game.

Just why Jaarsma went about for several years posing as a Dutch newspaper correspondent collecting signatures and seals for the queen back in Amsterdam he would not say when officers pounced upon him and his album. Possibly it was merely to satisfy his vanity, possibly for a more sinister purpose.

But it is not for that that Jaarsma is languishing on hot and smelly Ellis island. It seems that he once washed dishes in an Amsterdam hotel and that one day he abandoned his crockery and soapbuds, helped himself to 1,000 of his employer's gold guilders and several articles of clothing, and set out upon his autograph pilfering tour. This is the charge in a warrant issued by the Dutch government on which final deportation orders are now awaited from Washington. Jaarsma's alleged theft was made four years ago, and a world-wide search has been made for him since, ending in his arrest and detention here.

During the four year interval Jaarsma went freely about collecting his seals and autographs with the aid of an adopted American name, Bernard Putnam. Hunted as a criminal, he used Queen Wilhelmina's name freely in representing himself as an international journalist in good standing and in the service of his sovereign. No one suspected anything.

Worries White House.

There was some doubt as to whether Jaarsma included President Roosevelt among the victims of his bland manner and smooth speech. Examination of his album disclosed the official wax seal of "the President of the United States" imposed upon a tri-color band of red, white, and blue. But the President's secretarial staff insisted that there was no official record of Jaarsma having made a call at the White House. They came to the conclusion that the seal was a forgery inasmuch as the State department keeps the Chief Executive's seal under lock and key. Forgery or not, the finding of the President's seal in the album was said to have caused deep concern at the White House when Jaarsma's identity was revealed.

On another page of the album there was the brilliant red paper seal of the State department beside the photograph of Cordell Hull, director of America's foreign affairs. On still other pages there looked out gold-bordered pictures of Governor Lehman, Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey, and Mayor La Guardia. Setting the photographs off in tasteful fashion were the facsimile state and city seals punched into gold-leaf rosettes. It was all very imposing.

The Hollander's glib tongue and suave manner even fooled New York's police commissioner, Gen. John F. O'Ryan. The fact that the commissioner was conferring with Alfred E. Smith did not deter Wilhelmina's "emissary" when he wanted an autograph. He simply told O'Ryan's secretary that he would like to have the commissioner's signature for the queen, and he got it.

Rhode Island's Capitals

Rhode Island not only had two capitals, but in the early days it had virtually as many as it had towns, the general assembly meeting in circuit, first in one town and then in another. In time the general assembly grew to such size that the small town could not take care of so many people, and the meeting places became fewer and fewer until only two cities could take care of them—Providence and Newport. For many years Rhode Island had these two capitals. The legislature opened its annual session in May at Newport, and after a few days adjourned for a more extended one at Providence which began the following January. Since 1900 the legislature has met at Providence, the new state house being completed in that year. The state's constitution was so amended as to dispense with the session that met at Newport.

Bud Ruschin Playing Football For McGill

Called "that American," Bud Ruschin, former Newark boy and Stanford graduate, is starting for the McGill medical school football team at Montreal. Bud was recently one of the main factors in the defeat of the Canadian Military Academy team.

Ruschin was one of mainstays of the local high school team during his years there. He was a member of the Stanford varsity squad under Pop Warner.

Although holding down one of the guard positions on the team, Bud is brought into the backfield on certain plays to make use of his accurate passing. He tossed the winning pass against the soldiers.

Sophomore Dance Is Voted Success Friday

The Sophomore dance, the first of the school year, was held in the Washington high school gymnasium Friday evening. It was voted a huge success by the students.

W.U.H.S. HUSKERS IN 19 TO 6 WIN OVER SANTA CLARA

With Al Muniz accounting for twelve of their nineteen points, the Huskers won their third game this season when they romped over the touted Santa Clara eleven Friday in a hard fought game.

Santa Clara won the toss and kicked, then held the Huskers in their tracks. Taking the ball after a long punt by Muniz, Santa Clara marched up the field to the pay dirt, and it looked like a field day for the Panthers. The conversion failed, however, and Santa Clara scoring was over for the afternoon.

Coming back in the second quarter, the Huskers tied the count when Frank Medeiros, bruising fullback, pounded over. The conversion failed.

Kicking to Santa Clara and holding them to punts at the start of the second half, the Husker began a sustained drive goalward over the tackles. Al Muniz went over the line for the second touch-down on a sweep around end. No more scoring in third quarter.

Taking a long punt from Santa Clara late in the fourth quarter, the Huskers sewed up the contest with a vigor, when they sprang Al Muniz into the clear over tackle, and then gave him excellent blocking as he romped 65 yards to a touch-down. The conversion was good.

Coach Regl grins broadly this week when mention is made of his line. Blocking, charging and tackling of these stalwarts was spotless. In the backfield, Muniz, Medeiros and Boyce furnished the ignition.

Tomorrow afternoon the Centerville eleven will enter their first league contest. Emeryville will invade the Huskers field.

Class C Gridders To Meet Emeryville Today

Washington high school's class C football team, coached by Manuel Nunes will clash with the Emeryville lightweights this afternoon. The game will be the second of the diminutive grid-ders, who met defeat in their first attempt recently against Menlo. The score was 19 to 0.

With a revamped lineup, and several new plays, Nunes states that his midgets will not be easy to subdue this time. Class C football is something new at the local school. There are limitations as to the players' weight, age, and height.

GUILD BRIDGE

Members of the St. James Guild will enjoy a bridge party this afternoon at the Guild hall. Play will begin at 2 o'clock.

MOTHER OF REV. A. DE SOUZA DIES AT OAKLAND

Members of the Holy Ghost Parish, and the people of Centerville as a whole, were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Maria Lauriana De Souza, mother of the Rev. Father Alfred De Souza, of Centerville. She was the wife of the late Joseph J. Lemos. Mrs. Souza had not been in good health for some time.

The deceased woman was a native of Santa Cruz, Flores, Azores. She had lived in this country for many years, and was a member of the S. P. R. S. L. Council No. 1.

In addition to her son, Father Souza, she is survived by the following: Mrs. Maria A. Lemos, and Mrs. Anna T. Lemos, daughters; another son, Antonio, is deceased.

Funeral services were held in Oakland Tuesday morning, with a requiem high mass at the St. Joseph's church. Interment was in the St. Mary's cemetery.

POLICE DISTRICT SUGGESTED BY LIONS CLUB

Possible formation of a police protection district for Centerville is seen as a result of a meeting of the Lions Club directors Monday night, when that group, under the leadership of president Joe Jason, appointed a committee to work out details for the plan.

The committee is headed by Fred Rogers, who has as his co-workers, Frank Madruga and Captain P. C. Hansen.

The idea was conceived to increase the efficacy of the night patrol, according to committee-men, and to facilitate the collection of funds to defray protection expenses. The present system entails the collection of a popular subscription.

Among other things also under consideration of the directing group, is the proposed purchase of a whistle, to be installed in Centerville for sounding the noon hours and to call the Lions to the fold. The plan was discussed at length at the regular meet Tuesday night.

At the Tuesday session, the Lions discussed the possibility of staging a farce next January, with the assistance of a New York production company. The play, called "When Men Wed" will draw its cast from local aspirants.

NEW WATER TANK WILL IMPROVE SERVICE

Centerville's new 50,000 gallon water tank will be in operation sometime late this week or early next, it was learned Tuesday. A new pump, capable of filling the new container in short order was installed by Tony Enos this week.

The town's water service will be vastly improved, it is said, with a pressure of 35 pounds or better in the mains. Fire Chief Fred Rogers stated Tuesday that the department is pleased with the certainty of steady pressure behind their pumps.

While the change-over is being made to the new system, water service may be briefly interrupted. During the tests, San Francisco water will be turned into the mains, in order that consumers may not be inconvenienced.

Program Complete For Annual Campos Recital

Oliver Campos, township music instructor, this week stated, the program for the annual recital of his pupils, to be held at the Washington high school auditorium on the evening of October 19, is almost completed. It will be released next week.

The theme of the evening this year will be the "Days of '49," and the pupils are sparing no effort to make it authentic.

There is no charge to the public and all are urged to reserve Friday evening, October 19, and attend.

St. James Men's Club To Have Card Party

The St. James Men's Club will sponsor a card party to be held at the Guild hall on the evening of October 24, members stated this week.

Last week the club was entertained by Frank Veit and D. Lax at the Fior Di Italia restaurant in San Jose. The members returned to the Guild hall in Centerville after the dinner and held their business meeting. The usual card game, featuring the efforts of other members to dislodge Floyd Parks and John Lowman from their point of supremacy, took place after the meet.

PROPOSED CLINIC

The formation of a dental clinic in Washington township may be the result of a meeting of local dentists at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Dusterberry recently. The suggestion was met with approval, and future meetings may bring the plan to reality.

K. G. DEGREE TEAM CONFERS RANK AT HAYWARD MEET

The degree team of the Centerville council, Knight of Columbus, journeyed to Hayward last night, where they conferred first degrees upon a number of neophytes from the Hayward council. Those who went from here were: Manuel Lewis, John Vasconcellos, George Kommes, Louis B. Mayer and Ernest Pimentel.

The regular meeting of the Centerville council will be held in the Parish hall this evening. Foremost among plans of the local council are those for participation in the district communion to be held at the St. Joseph's cathedral, in Oakland, on Sunday, October 21. A number will go from the Centerville group.

Did you ever stop to think?

By Edson R. Waite

Money spent at home helps you and your city. Money spent away from home helps some other city. This habit of sending away to distant points for printing that you can get at home is becoming too common. I quote an editorial from the Penang Gazette and Straits Chronicle, which should be read carefully by every businessman. The editor says:

"We have received an interesting little booklet issued by Messrs. Mansfield & Company, Ltd. The booklet is a mine of information and gives details not only for traveling to and from Europe but of local leave and extended holiday trips which can be made by vessels of companies for which the firm act as agents. We were particularly glad to note in the foreword the following mention of Penang:

"The firm of Mansfield & Co., Ltd., was founded in Singapore in 1868, with branches in Sandakan and Penang. Although the Sandakan branch is no longer in existence, that at Penang continues to grow in importance."

"And just one word of complaint. Why was it considered necessary to send to Europe for the production of the booklet? It is a neat affair, but there is nothing in it beyond the ability of Malayan firms to produce."

"Spend in Malaya First' would be a good motto for those of us who earn our daily bread in this country."

"SURPRISING ECONOMY with this 10½ Ton Load"

13 miles per gallon of gas... no oil between 1000-mile changes... reduced upkeep cost, reports S. Nagel, of Haynes, California.

FAST one-day round trips—five of them every week—have been the "proving ground" for this new Ford V-8 semi-trailer for Mr. Nagel.

Let your Ford dealer give you the names of men right here who are using the new Ford V-8 Truck. Talk especially to those who, like Mr. Nagel, find it superior to expensive "big equipment."

Learn about the "pull" and speed of its 80-horsepower, V-8 motor. About its power on hills. Find out how it gets out of tough spots. Ask about the safety of its full-floating rear axle, its ability throughout "to take" rough usage. Then talk about costs. You'll find that the new Ford V-8 actually operates at a lower ton-mile cost than a "4".

Dealers Optimistic Over New Ford Sales

Stating that California automobile motorists are the least glib and most motor-wise in the country, Frank Sherman, chairman of the Ford dealer advertising committee, declared that he and his associates were gratified to note the response with which their car has been met this year.

Californians have bought 8000 more Fords than the next nearest automobile, Sherman held, adding that these sales have increased Ford registration for the first eight months of this year 84 per cent over sales at the same time last year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bonde spent Sunday in San Francisco. They attended the Santa Clara University of San Francisco football game there.

ARLISS, IN "HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD," TREMENDOUS HIT

George Arliss' greatest picture "The House of Rothschild," depicting the life of the great international financier, is being shown at the Hayward theatre. It will play there through Saturday night. "The House of Rothschild" is a picture that no one can afford to miss.

Beginning Sunday for a three day run is "Now and Forever" starring Shirley Temple, Gary Cooper and Carol Lombard.

Marlene Dietrich, Hollywood's most beautiful woman has a new role in "The Scarlet Empress," coming Wednesday. A story of intrigue in the Russian court. On the same bill is "Pursued," with Pert Kelton and Victor Jory. This is a bill worth seeing.

5 Uproariously Drunk; Clapped Into Bastille

Accused of being uproariously drunk, and conducting themselves in a disorderly manner, five Alvarado men, whose names were withheld by police, were booked at the county jail last week-end after their arrest by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch, James Ritchie and Constable O. W. Ebright.

The arrests were made after a number of complaints had been received by authorities of peace-disturbing activities in the neighborhood.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right dose of a liquid laxative brings a more natural movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may often do more harm than good.

A properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin brings safe relief from constipation. It gently helps the average person's bowels until nature restores them to regularity. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child.

Michigan Waterfall Is Somewhat Like Niagara

Michigan has the largest waterfall between Niagara and the Rocky mountains. Tahquamenon falls are in Luce county—named for a Detroit man—in the upper peninsula of Michigan, about 60 miles from St. Ignace and the Straits of Mackinac.

Many old legends cluster around falls and river, says a writer in the Detroit Free Press. The Tahquamenon is mentioned frequently in Longfellow's "Hiawatha." The Indian hero and his friend Kwasind cleared the river of its sunken logs and sandbars.

Somewhere in the river bed, on the way to the falls, Kwasind lies buried after his fight with the otters.

The river acquired an added interest through the legend that Paul Bunyan was born about ten miles above the falls. Paul is the mythical hero of every northern Michigan lumberjack.

The great falls are between 200 and 300 feet wide and nearly 50 feet high, with a heavy volume of water.

Like Niagara, the water cascades over a ledge beneath which there is a cave-like formation into which one may clamber behind the falls.

Garden of Eden

The origin of the various races of the world is a matter of mere speculation. Textbooks of ethnology mention different theories of the formation of races as the result of climatic and geographic conditions. The negro race evidently developed in Africa, negroes being mentioned in Egyptian manuscripts as early as 2000 B. C. The most usual explanation of the location of the Garden of Eden is that it was in the modern Irak in Asia, between the rivers Euphrates and Tigris, somewhere near the city of Babylon. The Britannica article on the subject says that the attempt to locate a mythological garden is bound to be attended by considerable difficulty, and all that can be safely said is that the story in its present form combines two traditions, one of which places the garden in the far north, where according to Babylonian tradition, the garden of the gods was to be found.

"The Death of Death," will be the unusual subject of the pastor's Sunday morning sermon. "In the midst of life we are surrounded by death," once wrote a philosopher. We may also say, "In the midst of death we are surrounded by life." The text will be "I came that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly."

Bible Theatre on the Air will give "Fishermen of Galilee," a dramatization of the story of the great catch of fishes. It is a very human story. You will not want to miss it. Those in the play are: Ted Dundas, Jack Townsend, Clark A. Griffin, Irma Hodges, Anna Millicent Shinn, Barbara Straub, and Wesley Dexter Gordon.

Dr. N. Catherine Holden has opened an office at 717 First street, Niles, furnished with the most modern surgical and physiotherapy equipment. C. OF C'S TROUCE RAMOS NINE IN FAST GAME

Pounding their way to their third win since the close of the summer league play, the Niles C. of C's chalked up 12 hits Sunday to beat the Ramos Real Estate team, of Hayward, by a tally of 8 to 4 at the Niles grammar school grounds.

Scoring four runs in the second canto with a sudden hitting spree, and three more in the fifth when Arias and Duarte romped home ahead of Medeiros, the Niles nine was at no time in danger.

Dutra, on the mound for Niles, had the Hayward lads well under control for the entire contest. He allowed 7 hits walked three and fanned seven men. He popped the seed for two hits himself.

"Bally" Pine led the Niles hitters for the day with three for four tries. Both Pine and Duarte handled eight outfield chances without a bobbie.

Mosquito Breeding Is Checked In Marshes

Mosquitoes too, thrive on warm weather. Rapid mosquito breeding was discouraged during September, however, by the oiling of 227 acres of marsh and of 3,407 miscellaneous breeding places, according to the monthly report of Harold F. Gray, Mosquito Abatement District engineer. Among miscellaneous places oiled were several hundred cess-pools and septic tanks which, when improperly covered are unhealthy and prolific mosquito breeders.

Winter maintenance of salt marsh drainage systems began with 5,800 lineal feet of ditch cleared of silt and vegetation during September. Heavy vegetation which blocked effective drainage was burned from 9 acres of marsh.

Except for a small outbreak near Alvarado, the migratory salt marsh mosquitoes were kept entirely subdued, Gray reported.

HUNTING RULES ARE LAID DOWN BY COMMISSION

The California Fish and Game Commission has elected to start the duck season this year on October 20, at sunrise, and will close it at sunset on December 30. Shooting days to be Saturdays and Sundays.

Hunters of Washington township, one of the leading duck hunting areas, are advised to acquaint themselves with the regulations.

The bag limit on ducks is 12 with a possession of 24. Not more than 5 of any one, or of the aggregate of the following species may be included in a bag limit: canvasback, redhead, lesser or great scaup, ringneck, green-winged, blue-winged or cinnamon teal, shoveller or gadwall. Not more than ten in the aggregate of these species may be possessed at any one time.

There is no open season in this state on Ross geese, wood, ruddy and bufflehead ducks, no can shore birds be lawfully killed, with the exception of jacksnipe. Not more than 25 live duck decoys may be used, and no live goose decoys are permitted.

The shooting day is from sunrise to sunset, except on premises that have baited ponds when shooting must cease at 3:00 p. m. Permission to bait ponds must be obtained from the U. S. Biological Survey at Washington, D. C.

Blinds on commercial clubs must not be less than 80 yards apart and not more than two hunters shall occupy one blind.

It is unlawful to shoot game from a power boat, sail boat, automobile or airplane. It is not legal to possess an extension or cane gun, and hunters must not use a gun larger than 10 gauge.

Hundreds of federal game wardens will co-operate with state game wardens to enforce the migratory waterfowl game laws, and especial attention will be concentrated on all duck areas to see that laws are observed.

Proper selection of type, careful composition, and painstaking press work are the foundations of good printing. The Register is justly noted for all three. Let us estimate your next job. Call Niles 23.
